There exists only one ancient manuscript copy, now in the possession of the Academia Sinica, Taiwan. A photographic reprint is included in the 1940 edition of the Ming shih-lu. The Shih-lu for the first four moons of the reign of the Ch'ung-chen emperor, 9th moon to 12th moon T'ien-ch'i 7, are in the 1940 edition attached to the Hsi-tsung shih-lu (No. 1.1.13).

1.2 The Huang Ming t'ung-chi, its editions and supplements

1.2.1 Huang Ming t'ung-chi 皇明通紀 (1555)

- (24) Number of chüan varies, by Ch'en Chien 陳建 (1497-1567, 1528 cj.) from Tung-kuan 東莞, Kuangtung: 89-Index, III, 201a; 東莞縣志, 1926 edition, 58, 6a-9a.

History for the period from the beginning of the dynasty, 1351, to the end of Cheng-te, 1521. It was the first comprehensive history of the Ming dynasty at that time. According to the author's preface he was persuaded by a friend to write a chronicle of the Ming, since at that time no such work did exist. Ch'en Chien's work must thus have been one of the most popular histories of the Ming dynasty. But soon after its publication it was severely criticized for misleading statements and for an alleged distortion of the historical truth. As early as during the Lung-ch'ing period the censor Li Kuei-ho 李貴和 proposed the burning of the printing blocks of the T'ung-chi and got the emperor's consent. But apparently this order had only a limited effect. The book was soon reprinted and became all the more popular; it is even quoted quite often in the T'u-shu chi-ch'eng. It has been suggested that the book was not written by Ch'en Chien but by Liang I 梁億 (1511 cs.) from Shun-te 順德, Kuangtung, younger brother of Liang Ch'u 梁儲 (1451-1527, 1478 cs. 89-Index, II, 182b); 順德縣志, edition 1853, 23, 37a. During the Ch'ing period the T'ung-chi, including all new editions and supplements, was listed for suppression. Preface by the author 1555. No copies of the original edition are known. But there is a large number of later editions and supplements still extant. Probably there are even more than listed below.

1.2.2 Huang Ming Ch'i-yün lu 皇明啓運錄 (1555)

- (24) 8 chüan by Ch'en Chien 陳建 (1497-1567, 1528 cj.).

Korean reprint of the first part of the Huang Ming t'ung-chi covering the beginning of the dynasty to the end of the Hung-wu period (1398) which has the sub-title Ch'i-yün lu. Preface by the author to the whole work, 1555.

1.2.3 Huang Ming t'ung-chi ch'ien-pien 皇明通紀前編 (1605)

A supplement covering the Chia-ching period to 1566 was added by Pu Ta-yu 卜大有 (1547 cs.) from Hsiu-shui, (89-Index, II, 2a) and edited by Pu Shih-ch'ang with the title Huang Ming hsü-chi 皇明續紀 in 3 chüan. A further supplement is the Huang Ming t'ung-chi shu-i 皇明通紀述遺 by Pu Shih-ch'ang in 12 chüan. Chüan 1-11 contain additions and supplements to the two previous works, chüan 12 covers the Lung-ch'ing period to 1572. The latter has prefaces by Feng Meng-chen 馮夢禎, 1605; by T'u Lung 屠隆, and by Pu Wan-ch'i 卜萬祺, 1605. Printed at the 聚奎堂.

1.2.4 (Hsin-ch'ieh kuan-pan yin-shih piao-t'i) Huang Ming t'ung-chi (新鐫官板音釋標題)皇明通紀 (Wan-li)

- (24i) 10 + 3 chüan. The first 10 chüan are the original work by Ch'en Chien with a preface by the author dated 1555. Printed at Nanking by the 摘星樓. The following 3 chüan are supplements for the Chia-ching and Lung-ch'ing periods to 1572 by Pu Ta-yu 卜大有 (1547 cs.) from Hsiu-shui 秀水, Chekiang (89-Index, II, 2a) with the title Huang Ming hsü-chi 皇明續紀. This part has additional notes by Chih Ta-lun 支大綸 (1574 cs.) from Chia-shan 嘉善, Chekiang (89-Index, II, 193c); and by Wu Jui-teng 吳瑞登 (1586 ks.) from Wu-chin 武進, Kiangsu (武進陽湖縣志, edition 1879, 20, 19a and 23, 20a). Although Pu Ta-yu 卜大有 is not mentioned as the author of the supplement, the text has the same additional notes by Chih Ta-lun 支大綸 and Wu Jui-teng 吳瑞登. The preface by Ch'en Chien is dated 1586 (?). REF.: CCT, 4, 12a; TRD, VIII, 481 (erroneously mixes up both titles); TSS, p. 229b; Hsieh Kuo-chen, 1, 16b-18a and 4, 18b-20b; ARJ, III, 310.

Chüan 1-15 are a new edition of Ch'en Chien's Huang Ming t'ung-chi 皇明通紀 (No. 1.2.1) with commentary and marginal notes by Ch'iu Chün 丘濬, covering the time from the beginning of the dynasty to the end of Cheng-te (1521). Chüan 16 by Ch'en Lung-k'o, edited (鑒定) by Ch'en Tzu-chuang 陳子壯 covers the first 22 years of Chia-ching to 1543. Chüan 17-24 by Ch'en Lung-k'o, edited (鑒定) by Ch'iu Erh-ku 丘爾穀, cover the period from Chia-ching 23 (1544) to the end of T'ien-ch'i 2 (1622). Chüan 25-27 without the name of the author or editor given, cover the years T'ien-ch'i 3-7 (1623-1627). COP.: Naikaku (Cat., p. 73).

The authenticity of the authors and editors of this work seems to be rather questionable. The well-known Ch'iu Chün died as early as Hung-chih 8 (1495) and could not be the editor of a historical work going down to 1521 and even to 1543. There may, however, be another person of the same name living in the seventeenth century.
